Summary of reasons
for classification:

The DVD Hitman: Extended Edition is classified as:
Objectionable except if the availability of the publication is restricted to persons who have attained the age of 16 years.

The DVD contains a feature film previously classified under the Films, Videos, and Publications Classification Act 1993. It was classified "Objectionable except if the availability of the publication is restricted to persons who have attained the age of 16 years" with the descriptive note, "Contains violence, offensive language and nudity". This decision (OFLC 702876) was registered on 05 December 2007.

Hitman: Extended Edition also contains five additional components, some deleted scenes including an alternate ending and various distributor notices. The five additional components are additional material relating to the feature in the form of cast and crew interviews, a discussion of the score, gag reel, the making of Hitman and a look at the various weapons that are used in the feature. The DVD also includes website information and subtitle options. The extra material in the feature and the additional components do not require the DVD to be given a different classification to that of the film originally examined.
